

MODERN LUXURY

HAMPTONS

JAMES TURLINGTON & NATASJA MADSEN

SHOP TILL YOU DROP

What’s better than a one-stop shop, especially one supporting female-owned businesses? July 26 and 27, Hideaway Hamptons will take over The Reform Club for a chance to shop 11 adorable brands, including Erin Donahue Tice Fine Art, Dondolo and Sue Sartor, each bringing their individual artistic prowess to the prized Hamptons gem. The pop-up will consist of stunning items from designed linens to belt buckles. Shopping is everyone’s cardio—especially celebrity fitness trainer Erin O’Leary Stewart, who will bring her squats and situps to Hideaway Hamptons. 23 Windmill Lane, Amagansett, hideawayhamptons.com

In With the New

FROM BUZZY NEW SHOPS TO ADVENTURES APLENTY, IT’S TIME TO TAKE NOTE OF THE HAMPTONS’ TOP HITS—HERE ARE THE LATEST PLACES AND THINGS TO PICK UP OUT EAST.

BY THE EDITORS

Mignonne Gavigan bracelet in pink and white

Dondolo founder and designer Catalina Gonzalez Jorba

VENI, VIDI, BOCCE

It’s all fun and games at Centro Trattoria & Bar, Hampton Bays’ prized authentic Italian eatery. Returning to the stacked menu is the restaurant’s Bocce League, allowing diners to double as athletes, participating in a 25-team tournament of the beloved sport. Every Wednesday, players can indulge in cocktails, small plates and pizzas while competing head to head with other bocce enthusiasts. Go for the gold—a trophy and a tasting menu for eight, curated by the owner, are awarded to the winning team. 336 W. Montauk Highway, #3525, Hampton Bays, centrohamptons.com

Econyl swimwear by Verandah

Sustainable Swim Is In

Whether worn seaside or poolside, Verandah’s summer sustainable swim and resortwear collection is best known for its beautiful handillustrated prints. This female-owned and operated luxury label has made it its mission to promote sustainability through fashion with 100% Italian-made maillots and bikinis created from Econyl yarn. Stand out this summer knowing each ethically handcrafted luxury piece pushes toward Verandah’s goals of zero waste, fair trade compliance and support of fellow artisans. studioverandah.com

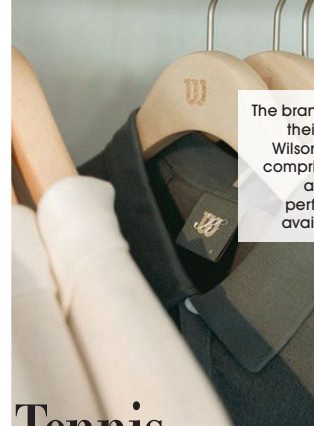

Centro Trattoria & Bar’s bocce tournaments take place every Wednesday.

PHOTOS COURTESY OF THE BRANDS

Wilson x Kith pop-up at Hampton Racquet in East Hampton

The brands have dropped their exclusive Kith for Wilson tennis collection comprised of sportswear and limited-edition performance rackets, available on-site only.

Tennis, Anyone?

Hampton Racquet in East Hampton is serving something other than forehands and backhands this summer—Kith's (kith.com) latest collaboration with Wilson (wilson.com) hits the Hamptons scene for the season, showcasing a limited-edition collection of sportswear, equipment and other athletic gear at The Pro Shop. Hamptonites will love this collaboration, adding some style and flair to the court. 172 Buckskill Road, East Hampton, hamptonracquet.com

Eres' Asia in Limonade and Gredin in Laurier Rose from its latest swimwear collection

CATCH OF THE DAY

Duryea's Orient Point returns with a stronger lobster game than ever this summer. New to the restaurant's menu is The Beach Club, radiating a Greek-inspired setting on the North Fork. While enjoying Mediterranean eats from chef Philippe Corbet, diners can expect live DJ beats and a vibrant daytime scene. 40200 Main Road, Orient, duryeas.com

The Beach Club at Duryea's Orient Point

POOL PARTY

Seeking stylish swimsuits to sport this beach season? Look no further than the Parisian-inspired swimwear brand Eres, hitting the Hamptons sea scene with a breathtaking spring/summer 2022 collection. For over 50 years, the brand has mastered the art of swimwear, recently adding lingerie and activewear to its packed portfolio. This line bursts with colors and styles, inspired by regions across the Mediterranean. 14 Jobs Lane, Southampton; 55 Main St., East Hampton, eresparis.com